Program

MDS 3.0 marks a new era whereby long-term care providers will be identified, judged and paid based on the quality, accuracy and management of its data throughout its entire operations. But until its official launch, facilities will still be working with MDS 2.0. This session will begin to prepare facilities for the transition to MDS 3.0, which is not 'just a form' for one-dimensional input; it's a complex, integrated system of processes that begin even before a resident is admitted that continues to play a crucial role in every part of the residents' clinical and financial journey, even beyond discharge. That means every position and process that the transition from MDS 2.0 to 3.0 touches is pivotal to a much larger operational process within your facility. From nurse aides, RNs, and DONs, to activity directors, therapists, dietary, care planning, billing, and admissions-all the way through administrators and owners—everyone will be impacted.

The Alliance Training Center takes an interdisciplinary approach and viewpoint to teaching facilities practical strategies on how to effectively transition from MDS 2.0 to 3.0, including mastering the MDS database and then learning how to use and manage that data to magnify staff performance, minimize risk, and maximize reimbursements:

- This program will cover the Implications of MDS 3.0 including RUGS IV
- The Basics – MDS 2.0 and what is lchanging (and what is not) in MDS 3.0
- Data Collection – How to ensure quality and accuracy throughout the MDS data collection process, from every touch point within your facility
- Provider Staff – Learn which MDS 3.0 items are associated with RUGs and QMs, as well as learn the new terminology associated with MDS 3.0

- Interviewing Residents – Brand new to MDS 3.0, the ability to effectively interview residents requires extra training and coordination with your care team, and also adds time to the data collection effort all while the look-back period and filing deadlines are both shrinking

The session is strongly recommended for operational managers including administrators, owners and financial managers, as functional managers such as DONs, RNs, nurse assessment coordinators and MDS coordinators.

The session has associated continuing education contact hours for nurses, administrators and other interdisciplinary team members.

Each participant will receive:

Continental Breakfast each morning Extensive handouts including a binder with 8 tabbed sections.

- Section One - balanced budget

Reengineering RAI, item by item
